Re: Recommendation to Change Credit Card Providers for In-Person Services and to Add Online and IVR (Phone) Payments for Citations

Government Window is a company that integrates with our Case Management software, Courtware, for payment of traffic fines online and by phone. I would like to recommend that we sign an agreement with them for this service to help streamline work in the City Clerk's office. They also offer Point of Sale solutions for in-person customers for other types of payments, and I would like to recommend that we change from our current credit card provider for in-person payments for these services as well.

Advantages of signing agreement with Government Window

Payments for Citations Online and IVR

- When payments are made online or by phone, Courtware is automatically updated.
- Payers can see their appearance date for court in the software, and whether their payments make them eligible to avoid coming to court.
- No cost to City of Oxford. Full cost of transaction is passed on to payer – 6%
- No term for contract. City of Oxford is free to exit the contract at any time

In-Person Services

- Our current credit card services Provider, Govolution, would not allow us to charge customers a convenience fee for Visa utility bill payments, and they could not process Visa without a convenience fee and the other types with a convenience fee. Therefore, the City elected not to accept Visa payments in person (Visa is accepted online through a different credit card services provider, and accounts for about 75% of online payments each month).

Government Window does not have such a limitation. They charge the customer 3.5% or $1.50 minimum for non-citation payments and 4% in person for citation payments. There is no cost to the City of Oxford – their full cost is passed along to the customer. For reference, current in-person fees passed to customers are 2.75% per transaction for MC, Discover, and Amex. While the fee itself may be higher for some customers, being able to accept Visa in the office would help us tremendously in not having to see customers multiple times when they have to go get some other form of payment.

- No term for contract. City of Oxford is free to exit the contract at any time. We do not yet know the details of the payment services with our new vendor, BS&A. If BS&A cannot integrate with Government Window, we can move to the BS&A provider for most payments but still retain Government Window's services for payment of citations.
- Acceptance of Visa in the office will help reduce the manual tasks related to processing checks and cash, which must be kept in a till, balanced, and deposited. We frequently have customers wanting to pay Visa, which we cannot accept right now. Credit card deposits are automatically submitted to our bank, so no physical deposit is required for them.
- Our current in-person credit card processor does not provide customer-facing Point-of-Sale (POS) terminals. Staff must keep a separate web application open to process the credit card sale. Government Window offers customer-facing POS terminals, so staff only need to open the web application to process the card if the terminal will not accept the automated card process (this occurs occasionally with all credit card systems and is usually caused by the condition of the card).
- Our current in-person credit card processor charges us $89 per year for encryption of credit card data, a PCI-DSS requirement. Government Window's applications and card readers are PCI-DSS compliant, and no additional charge is assessed by them for this service.

I would like to add that I have discussed this payment option with Judge Hathorn, and he is supportive of the change as long as the new web page includes attestations by the payer that are currently attested to on paper. The City of Covington utilizes Government Window for citation payments. A screenshot of their entry screen for payment of citations is attached. Our screen would look very similar, but with our logo and court information.

I would appreciate your consideration of these changes. Once the agreement is signed, Government Window would engage in a project period with us to get a web page set up for citation processing online, and to get us set up with the new POS terminals. We would also need to engage with Courtware to enable integration of the solution with their software.

Mauldin & Jenkins is preparing the engagement letter for the FY 2022 audit and has reached out to staff to let us know their audit fees have increased. The firm has raised their rates 7% (since the initial contract with the City), due to continued rising costs. Mauldin & Jenkins had a very large write off in the first year of the audit and did not send any additional billings to the City.

Mauldin & Jenkins is asking if the City would be willing to agree to this 7% increase? Our current contract for 2022 is $20,000 and the 7% would push us up to $21,400.
